STEM FAIR

This year the Stonewall STLP Team will be competing at the Fayette County STEM Fair. This fair is a great way to show everyone what we have been doing in STLP this year. Stonewall will be entering one showcase group and many other individual projects including digital art and digital stories.

Come out and support your school. The STEM Fair will be at Bryan Station High School on Saturday, February 11th from 9:00-11:00.

Academic Team meet

Attention, everyone! The academic team will have another challenge on Saturday, February 4th at Bryan Station High School. The last time they went to a challenge a couple of teams almost won. We hope that they have fun and do their best!

ATTENTION STONEWALL FAMILIES:

Are you a talented musician? Do you have experience in dramatic or visual arts? Can you dance or sing?

As we plan our Love for the Arts Night on February 13th, we need YOUR help! The arts committee is compiling a list of Stonewall parent/family talents. All we need from you is a willingness to share your knowledge with small groups of students. Interested? Please contact Amy Recktenwald at 333-7044 or through e-mail (amy.recktenwald@gmail.com). Thanks for your support!

What Are Your New Years Resolutions?

By: Stonewall STLP Blue Team

We hope that everyone had a great winter break! We wanted to know what everyone's goals are for this new year. Read about what the students and teachers at Stonewall have to say:

Mrs. Murphy: "Eat healthy, exercise more, and find more time to read!"

Mrs. Peavler: "Be a good friend to everyone and have fun."

4th grade student: "Make the baseball team and spend more time playing outside."

Snowy Day Crafts

Now that the weather is getting cold and it is hard to get out and play we thought we would show you an easy winter craft. Take a look!

This snowman is made from a cereal box and is very easy to do. The craft is for children 5 and up and looks like a lot of fun. Go to this website to get the rest of the directions. Have fun making this cool snowman craft!

Coming Soon . . .

Take Your Family to School Week this year is Sunday, February 13 through Saturday, February 18. This week you can look forward to YMCA Day on Sunday, February 12, Love for the Arts Night on Monday, February 13 and Winterfest on Saturday the 18th!

Mark your calendars now!

We hope to see everyone attending! ☺

Stonewall Cookbook

The PTA Wellness Committee is putting together a Healthy Snack Cookbook and they need your recipes!! All recipes submitted will be included in our first ever Stonewall Cookbook!! In addition, 2 winning recipes will be showcased at Winterfest. They will be judged by the Wellness Committee based on the following criteria - Healthiness, Taste, Ease and Affordability. Please submit your recipes by February 8th to Sarah-Ashley Solie at sasolie@me.com.

Winterfest

Saturday February 18th

10am – 2pm

Let's have some fun! Join us for a great winter celebration! We have done so well with Fundraising this year, Winterfest will be all about having FUN! We'll have the traditional cakewalk, games & prizes, and pizza. We'll have some fun vendors like Joseph Beth Booksellers, Tattoos and Face painting. Wristbands for games will be $5. So, mark your calendars for a fun day with the kids.

We will need your help to create a successful event, so please volunteer to help sometime during the day. We could use your help for the following: set up (Friday) and tear down, work the games, sell wristbands, and serve food.

Help us make a fun day for the kids! You'll have fun, too!

Get Your Memory Books!

Pre-orders will be taken through January 30, 2012 for $22 per book. The form is available on our website at www.stonewallpta.org/forms/.
